

Features of MatTuGames

Computing solution concepts from cooperative game theory.

Checking game properties.

Checking the axiomatization of cooperative solution concepts.

Computation can be performed in serial as well as in parallel.

Creation of game class objects to perform computations for retrieving and modifying game data within a consistent computation environment.